

I think satellite radio is the best thing that has happened in a long time. It is so nice to listen to the type of music or talk radio that you like when you travel and never have to change channels. I think that since I have agreed to pay for this service that I also should be able to get traffic and weather channels of my choose. The NAB should not have anything to say about this.